Shows:

The society entered tabletop exhibits in both the Omaha and the Orchid Society of the Ozarks shows. The exhibits won blue ribbons, but the Orchid Society of the Ozarks the Society also won Best in Class for an exhibit that size. Gene Hallett received a best in class on his Phalaenopsis orchid.

There was a request for help for the Springfield show that was this past weekend. The exhibit won a blue ribbon and looks beautiful from the pictures.

Great job everyone! There were many orchids involved in all the shows and everyone that helped to make the exhibits happen.

The Mid America Orchid congress was also this past weekend in Cincinnati. It promised to be a fun excursion for those that could go. The next Mid America will be in Buffalo, NY in November.

Lori Walters program for the beginners group was on orchid pests.

The auction is April 17th and there is a need for fliers to be distributed. Please let Lori know what plants you would like to donate.
